

ST MARTINS SCHOOL

20 November 2020

Year 3 have been incredibly busy both in school and during their period of blended learning at home. In October pupils created some fantastic pieces of work for Black History Month. They completed everything from posters, to presentations to poems. As I'm sure you'll agree they've worked really hard and put a lot of effort into these pieces.

During their period of blended learning at home, the children were given the task today to design a 'Monument or Something for the Village' that means something to them or that would be a great asset to our local area. This links with our Topic on 'Local Area' and was also for developing their English Speaking and listening skills as they are going to present their projects to the rest of the class. George has designed a clock tower with a memorial monument, and Emillie has designed a school post box to put in the school front reception for the children from St Martins School to post letter's or pictures to be sent to cheer people up in our local care homes who can't see their family during lockdown. Ms Devismes and I are incredibly proud of both of them for their lovely thoughtful ideas

Have a lovely weekend,
Ms Lovecy

ST MARTINS SCHOOL

20 November 2020

Just a reminder to parents that we are unable to accept any forgotten items at the school reception. We cannot break bubbles to deliver anything to your child during the school day. If it is a forgotten packed lunch your child will be provided with a school lunch and the diner will send you the invoice.

Being good neighbours

Sadly despite polite notices asking parents not to block in cars on the vets car park, this week one of the vets was verbally abused by a parent. To protect their staff, clients and their business they will now no longer allow parents to park. This is private property. On-going threats by parents to the vets will be handed to the police.
